

APRIL 3, 1973

people in administration win popularity contests. Now we're going to have a popularity contest, perhaps this man is in trouble, but that's not his job. Secondly for those that disagree with the philosophy of Dr. Anderson. Let me say first of all, that he is appointed by the Governor and the Governor is ultimately responsible for the administration of all those institutions. That's his job. Now whether you agree with Dr. Anderson's philosophy or not, you have to bear in mind, that the chief administrator, the guy who's ultimately going to make the decision, the guy who's really going to give the decision, is the Governor of this State, and by rejecting this man, no one is assured of that fact, that they'll get someone that coincides with their philosophy on anything in regard to institutions. Now I think has been a much debated subject, but I think really in your minds, you have to come down to one decision. That when a nomination is made, the only cause for rejection that you can have, if there has been a serious case built against the nominee, and in my judgement that case has not been made. There have been insinuations, innuendos, disagreement in philosophy, and I disagree with a lot of people in here in philosophy and we're never going to get anyone that agrees with the common philosophy of this Legislature. But that case has never been made against Dr. Anderson, and I certainly do not necessarily agree with everything he does, but again let me remind you, that we're not voting on a director. We're not making our choice. The choice you have here, is very simple. You either accept or reject the nominee, and that rejection should be based on some solid foundation of fact which has eluded me up to this time. So I urge you to vote the confirmation of Dr. Anderson.

PRESIDENT: Read the motion on the desk.

CLERK: Mr. President, I move we recess until 2:00 p.m. signed Senator Carsten.

PRESIDENT: Motion is to recess till 2:00 this afternoon. Need, further excuse me. Is there any other business to come before the body? Motion is to recess until 2:00 this afternoon. All those in favor of the motion say aye, those opposed say no. So ordered, we'll recess until 2:00 this afternoon.